GLEICHEN, ALBERTA, WEDNESDAY,

FEBRUARY 27, 1929

SUBSCRIPTION $200 PER YEAR

ANNUAL MEETING MARQUIS M. D.

Minutes of the annual meeting of the Rural Municipality of Marquis, No. 157, held at Lake McGregor School.

The returning officer P. J. Haslam opened the meeting calling for nominations for a chairman from the 50 to 60 ratepayers present and Mr. C. L. Oldfield was duly elected chairman.

Mr. Oldfield thereupon took the chair and called for nominations for a secretary with the result that P. J. Haslam was selected to fill that office.

Mr. Oldfield first called upon the councillors in turn to address the meeting.

Reeve Neil Campbell, the first on the stand, took the financial statement explaining in detail the various items.

Mr. Milt Ward being next called upon touched on road grading, pointing to the saving that could be effected by the use of an elevator grader, also on the results obtained by the use of chemical weed destroyers.

Mr. Dann stressed the amount of work he found it necessary to do last spring owing to washouts and also said he acquiesced with Mr. Ward in his remarks regarding road work over weeds.

Mr. Richard Brodrick touching on the chemical destruction of weeds and advised caution until the effective results of the chemicals are proved. He also said that he quite agreed with the remarks of his colleagues.

Messrs. Ward and Dann on the saving that would result from the purchase of an elevator grader. The rest of his remarks were confined to the municipal park and the proposed large health unit as explained by the Department of Public Health at the municipal convention.

As the set time for nominations was drawing near and two councillors yet to hear from it was proposed by D. B. Sims and second by W. Oldfield that the time for the councillor's remarks be extended which was carried.

Mr. Vic. Bertrand was thereupon called upon. In the course of his remarks he emphasized the advisability of trying to keep open the roads all the year round. He also dealt with road maintaining, saying that on the main road this should be a paid service, even if the mill rate has to be increased.

Mr. Steve Williams gave a report on the expenditure in his division giving figures from actual work done during the year of the amount saved by the use of an elevator grader compared with other methods of handling dirt.

Mr. Wilson Oldfield, the representative of the municipality on the Hospital Board of the Municipal Hospital Vulcan, gave a report on the Municipal Hospital. In response to a delegation from the Milo Board of Trade regarding a sub-hospital at Milo he said he was sure his Board would be glad to meet the Milo Board of Trade anytime and talk the matter over.

The returning officer then resumed charge of the meeting and called for nominations for three councillors for a two-year term and at 4 p.m. nominations closed.

The following gentlemen were nominated: Richard Brodrick of Eastway, Neil Campbell of Vulcan, Steve Williams of Queenstown.

Thereupon the returning officer declared the aforesaid gentlemen elected by acclamation for a two-year term in the order named.

Mr. C. L. Oldfield again took over the chair and the business was proceeded with.

The new councillors being called upon for an expression of their policy.

Mr. Haggins spoke representing a delegation from the Milo Board of Trade regarding the improvement of the road from Armada to Milo.

Mr. Alex McIntyre seconded, by Wm. Herman proposed the following resolution:

"That this meeting here assembled request the Municipal Council of Marquis to find ways and means of raising at least $3000 to be spent on the improvement of the park in the next three years.

With the consent of the mover and secondor this resolution was withdrawn and the following resolution substituted, moved by Alex McIntyre:

KATHLEEN GREENE SPLENDID ENTERTAINER

The program given by little Miss Kathleen Greene of Calgary last Friday night in the United Church was without doubt the very best of its kind ever produced in Gleichen. One lady qualified it as the best of any kind she had seen during 20 years residence here. Kathleen was born in Calgary 12 years ago and besides 40 minutes of Pollyanna gave several other short sketches between. She is naturally gifted in recital art and appears to never tire of it, but loves it. Furthermore, Kathleen is a real girl bubbling over with life and romped about with the girls in town and joined in their play Saturday as a real healthy child should. As the train pulled out Kathleen shouted out "Don't forget I am coming back to Gleichen to see you all, I like Gleichen!" The church was crowded to capacity to hear Kathleen and from the many nice things said of her, it is evident a much larger building will be required to accommodate the crowd when she returns to give her new recital "Captain January", which all hope will be soon. Several young local artists also took part in the program, whose selections were much appreciated, including Miss Young, Gerald Yates, Betty Kelly, Rowan Wright and Ella and Auley Robinson.

WOHELO C.G.I.T.

The meeting of the Wohelo C.G.I.T. group took place in the United Church, and a devotional period was taken by Dorothy Murray. The roll call was answered with the name of our "Favorite Authors" and next week answers will be our "Favorite Poets." In the business part many suggestions were made of means by which the girls might obtain money for the mother and daughters banquet. The Canadian Mazka was read and explained by Marjorie McIntyre, and Emma Fawcett. Three new members were taken into the group and thirteen members were present.

and seconded by John Glanbeck. "That action on this matter be postponed until the government park planning expert will be on hand and it is further resolved that a general meeting of the ratepayers be called for the date Mr. Seymour, the park expert, can attend on."—Carried

Moved and seconded that the Municipal secretary notify all ratepayers of this meeting.

Moved by D. B. Sims seconded by L. A. Douglass, the following amendment.

That this meeting be advertised in each small town and village in and adjacent to the Municipality of Marquis. The amendment carried.

Miss Davidson, the municipal nurse, gave a full and interesting report of her work during the year outlining a scheme of prizes in conjunction with school taxes for the schools:

1. With best equipment.
2. Best kept, including outbuildings.
3. Best display of health poster and health education.
4. Facilities for serving hot lunches and daily supervision of the lunch hour.
5. Improvement of pupils since last inspection.

Miss Davidson was accorded a hearty vote of thanks on the conclusion of her report.

Mr. Haggins on behalf of the Milo Board of Trade asked a question as to the moving of the municipal office.

Mr. Campbell in reply stated that the Council had decided that this matter should go before the ratepayers and a vote be taken.

Moved by Mr. Martin Peterson: That a vote be taken of the ratepayers as to the location of the municipal office.

Moved by John Glanbeck seconded by D. B. Sims that a vote be taken on:

1. The improvement of the Municipal park.
2. The moving of the municipal office to Milo or Queenstown or leaving of it in its present position.

Carried. Moved by Jackson seconded by John Glanbeck that this vote be by proportional ballot.

HOCKEY

The Gunners played an exhibition game at Stettler Monday night and came off with the long end of a 5-3 score. In the first period Stettler made 3 goals in succession in the first ten minutes and Si scored a counter for Gleichen near the end of the period. In the second Si gained scored then Bob Brown from Si in the third Si made two more goals one from Bob Brown and the other from Camp Brown. Stettler treated the boys fine and at the end the fans congratulated the Gunners on winning.

Last week Gleichen played at Strathmore in the first round of the provincial play off and came off victorious with a score of 3-2. Strathmore took the defeat so hard that a number of fights took place after the game. During the game the Strathmore goalie abused Smith the referee who is from Cluny. Consequently before the game in Gleichen Saturday night the goalie had to make an apology to Harry Scott the referee from Calgary, before the goalie would be allowed to play hockey again.

Thus on Saturday night the Gleichen players still smarting under the treatment at Strathmore set out to make as many counters as possible. So anxious were they to run up a huge score that they lost many opportunities to score.

Strathmore set the pace for half the first period and succeeded in keeping the puck Gleichen way. The Gunners began to warm up and Strathmore showed signs of fatigue. The first goal was made by Campbell Brown on a long shot. Strathmore then scored their only counter of the game by W. Giroux from J. Crellin. Billy Taylor and Tom Johnston each scored for Gleichen.

In the second period Si McKay scored on a pass from B. Brown, and B. Brown from Taylor. The period was uninteresting, Strathmore looked tired and had no pep. The puck was Strathmore way most of the time. Strathmore plainly showed they lacked system and coaching and the period looked like a practice game for the Gunners.

In the third Si made an individual rush down the ice and scored. Bob Brown made another counter in a scrimmage, Taylor and B. Brown then made an end to end rush and Taylor scored. The next and last counter was made by Billy Taylor on a lone rush. In this period Gleichen had two men on the fence cooling off which gave an opening to Strathmore to do something and instead of sending every man up the ice they kept the two defense men hugging the goal, to the astonishment of the crowd, and yet if the Strathmore defense had gone up the ice Gleichen would surely have scored again. The Gleichen players could easily outtake any of their opponents. Strathmore has several good players and with a good coach to show them a few tricks they doubtless would make a good team. Score for this game 5-1 for the Gunners.

series 3-12.

We like Harry Scott's way of refereeing. He puts pep in the game and wastes no time in the face offs or off side plays. Infact he throws the puck down almost as soon as he picks it up. But before he has the puck in his hands he is calling on the centers to get into position to hurry up and make it snappy, meantime himself going after the puck and throws the puck into action on the run.

The second round of Nov. 15 series will begin on Saturday night at 7:30 on Gleichen ice with Medicine Hat Monarchs and the return game at Medicine Hat Monday evening.

JOHN C. BUCKLEY STATES NEW SCHOOL ACT ONLY FOR DISCUSSION YET

Mr. John C. Buckley, M.L.A., for the Gleichen constituency, in a letter to the CALL has the following to say regarding the proposed new election act:

"By some communications I have received, I fear many have interpreted the Hon. Perrin Baker's statement to the U.F.A., convention that 'the Act would be presented or introduced to the Legislature' as meaning passing through the Legislature and thus becoming law, which is absolutely different, and a step I am confident he never contemplated unless approved by sufficient body of rural opinion.

"I feel rather perplexed, some instructing me as to their approval, and others their disapproval, so have sent a copy of the minister's pamphlet to the chairman of each school district in my constituency. If they will kindly state their specific objections if they have not already done so, so that if those can be removed by amendment in committee, it may obviate the necessity of condemning the entire act. But I can assure you no member or government would be so foolish as to force through any law against the will of those affected.

GLEICHEN CANADIAN CLUB HOLDS ANNUAL MEETING

The annual meeting of the Gleichen Canadian Club held in the Community Club dining room last Wednesday was fairly well attended and much interest shown, and the musical numbers supplied were greatly appreciated.

Pres. Geo. Gooderham occupied the chair and after the singing of "O Canada!" Miss Olie Robinson gave a piano solo that was most happily received.

The reading of the minutes of the last annual meeting brought forth some discussion regarding unfinished business, particularly regarding the forming of a Parent and Teacher's Club. The president said this matter had been left in abeyance owing to the hope that a Chamber of Commerce might be formed. This was finally settled on a motion by Rev. Gibney and Corcoran that this club wait a move by some other organization and co-operate with them in an endeavor to have Rev. Dr. Kirby deliver an address in Gleichen on the subject.

The discussion of letter from the Calgary Women's Canadian Club asking the Gleichen Club, to cooperate in two resolutions in connection with the grave dissatisfaction with the teaching of Canadian history in Alberta schools. Mr. Ostrander and Rev. Gibney moved this Club was in sympathy with these two resolutions. The financial report was very encouraging and approved on motion of Mr. Hutcheson and Mrs. Yates.

Mrs. Maclean favored with a solo titled "Only a year ago," which received much applause.

The chairman stated he thought it time that Gleichen stood upon its own legs, and pay the Associated Canadian Club 50 cents per member and that our year should start August 31st to conform with all other clubs. Both these suggestions were adopted on motion by Mr. Cuthbert and Rev. Gibney.

Mr. Cuthbert and Rev. Davies carried a motion that the membership fee be $1 and 50 cents per member be paid for affiliation fees.

For the election of officers the chairman appointed Mr. Cuthbert and Mrs. W. P. Evans a nominating committee and after some discussion on their report the following officers were elected to act to August 31st next.

Hon. Pres. Donald Hutcheson. Pres. Geo. H. Gooderham. Vice-Pres. Major A. B. G. Lewis. 2nd Vice-Pres. Rev. J. Ross Gibney. Sec-Treas. A. F. MacCallum.

Executive: Mrs. L. Michael, Mrs. A. R. Yates, Mrs. W. P. Evans, Rev. C. R. Corcoran, Rev. J. Davies and Mr. L. Cuthbert.

The usual motion passed authorizing Mr. MacCallum to operate the bank account.

The chairman expressed appreciation appointed Mr. Cuthbert and Mrs. Hutcheson, the retiring Sec-treas. and Rev. Mr. Gibney of the various schools in the reception of the pictures of the "Fathers of Confederation" and the flags.

C.P.R. VICE-PRES. RECOMMENDS RY. EXTENSION

As the CALL goes to press a letter is received from Mr. John Glanbeck in which he says:

"The Railroad Committee has received a wire from Ottawa stating that E. D. Coleman, Vice-Pres. of the C.P.R., had recommended that the railroad be extended this summer from Arrowwood."

MILO NEWS ITEMS

Over one million bushels of wheat good, bad and indifferent will be shipped out from Milo this year.

Mr. Watt, who formerly farmed east of Milo in partnership with his brother, has been appointed temporary postmaster of Milo.

On March 7 Mr. Seymour, the Provincial town and park planning expert will be present and speak at a meeting at Lake McGregor School.

The next U.F.A. meeting of the Milo local will be held at Milo Friday March 1st, at 2 o'clock in the afternoon.

Wm. Durstan and wife from Queenstown, who are enjoying a trip to the coast this winter, writes that they haven't seen the sun since leaving Alberta.

On the Shore hill west of Milo, where the snow drifts were bad last year, the municipality put up a snow fence this winter, which apparently keeps the snow off the grade.

Eric Shore, who for a number of years was manager of Phillips Hardware store in Queenstown, is now employed in the Milo Hardware where he has charge of the implement and repair department.

Jack Shields, who made a trip this winter to his old home in England, returned to "God's country" again last week. Jack was not very enthusiastic about things he saw across the water, times were tough and the climate bad.

A news item in the Calgary Herald informs us that Lawrence Irwin, one of the old homesteaders east of Milo and who later moved to Arrowwood, has purchased the 900-acre farm, one mile from town, belonging to Mrs. E. M. Bulgar of Bassano, for $57.50 per acre. Mr. Irwin previously owned five quarter sections of the best improved land three and a half miles from Arrowwood.

Of course, when it comes to real honest to goodness cold weather such as 50 below Alberta can produce it for a day or two off and on, but take it all together I think that nobody can deny that Alberta, compared with the States and Europe, this winter has been a real summer resort. A few days ago we read in the papers about England, France and even countries around the Mediterranean and Adriatic Sea snowed in and froze up, while we here in Alberta were going around looking for butterflies.

COMIC FARCE, MAR. 7th AT CLUNY

Cluny social artists are to stage an original comic farce in three acts in the Cluny hall on Thursday, March 7th, under the auspices of the Cluny United Church. It will be remembered these artists gave a most successful performance at Cluny and Gleichen last winter and all will want to see them once more.

BIG CARNIVAL ON MARCH 5th.

The United Church Ladies Circle among other good work are endeavoring to help the young people and for next Tuesday night propose giving an ice carnival at the Gleichen skating rink and offer many prizes for costumes and skating contest. There will be fun that old and young will enjoy. Be there on time and all the time or you will miss something.

COUNTRY CORRESPONDENTS

The weekly papers with their budgets of correspondence from week to week strikes the right note and we feel that everyone in a community is indebted to the correspondents for keeping their places "on the map":—
It may be that the country correspondents of a weekly newspaper are not sensible of the service they are rendering, not only their family journal, but also the community in which they live. Week in and week out, they contribute their budget of news which is the mirror of the daily happenings in their circle of activity.
Without the correspondents' weekly news, the paper would be like a dinner with the meat dishes left out and the community like a church service with the choir on holidays.

Not only the citizens in the town where the paper is published find interest in the doings of their country cousins, but also every resident in the hamlet or village from where the budget comes is a devout consumer of the weekly news. Every little happening has its human interest. The arrival of the firstborn, the marriage of a popular couple, the passing of a pioneer, the home coming of a favorite son or daughter, the coming and going of visitors, the little incidents from week to week which perhaps have no outside bearing, are all of vital moments and are important factors in the life of the community.

Truly country correspondents are invaluable in the functioning of a weekly newspaper, and we acknowledge with gratitude the loyal and efficient service they are rendering this family journal throughout the entire year.

DID YOU EVER STOP TO THINK

THAT dealers who sell nationally advertised lines realize that they are offering the public the kind of goods
they want.

THAT the people realize that well advertised lines are the best, and the best is what they want. They ask for the lines they know.

THAT selling well known lines means satisfied customers and increased sales.
Advertised lines are the finest obtainable anywhere; they are of a standard quality and easy to sell.

THAT maintained quality means increased popularity. A store is known by the quality of the merchandise it advertises.

THAT the pulling power of advertising is best demonstrated by the huge business that has been won by those concerns who are continuous advertisers.

The other place just out of sight can't compare with your town. That's the way it is with many citizens.
They continually "knock" their town
and wish they lived somewhere else.
And when they go away, if they do,
they find that not all is gold that glitters.

If you cannot keep up you may as well put your hands up.

POOL ELEVATOR PROGRAM

A tentative list of points at which the Alberta Wheat Pool will build or buy elevators during the coming season has been issued from the Pool office. The total number of points is fifty-six, but the list, it was pointed out, is by no means a final one.

The Alberta Pool has now 318 elevators located at country points, and the addition will bring the total number up to 374. The list may be enlarged considerably as the season develops, but the increase will depend upon various factors.

The number of elevators which will be built and the number purchased depend on the prices asked by elevator companies for elevators they are willing to sell, and also on the price of lumber.

Whenever the Pool decides to go into a new point it is usual for the organization to make an offer to purchase if there is an elevator there which will meet the requirements. In this way the Pool has acquired a considerable number of houses and avoided a wasteful duplication.

A number of points are under consideration for a second Pool house because of extraordinary large deliveries of Pool wheat, but a definite decision as to these has not as yet been reached.

TEST SEED WHEAT

Testing of seed wheat is strongly recommended by the Alberta Wheat Pool. By seeding a couple of hundred grains of sample of seed to be used, in a flower pot or box, and keeping the soil moist, a good idea is obtained of what the seed will do when placed in the ground next spring. Clean, pure seed that will germinate evenly will increase the bulk and quality of the crop.

POOL ELEVATOR HANDLINGS

The Alberta Pool Elevators have to date handled close to 45 million bushels of grain from the 1928 crop.
The leading Pool elevator is at Foremost where 345,000 bushels of grain have been handled, 330,000 bushels of wheat and 15,000 bushels of rye.
Foremost is located in Southern Alberta in a district which was at one time considered to be in the "dry belt."

One of the largest manufacturing plants in Alberta has changed hands with the purchase of the Medalta Potteries Limited of Medicine Hat by R. C. Carle and O. C. Arnott of Calgary. The assets of the company include valuable clay deposits in Alberta and Saskatchewan, the plant having capacity of over one carload of pottery per day. This plant, it is stated, produces some 75 per cent.
of the pottery manufactured annually in Canada.

The announcement that a large group of British capital has been interested in a project for utilizing the surplus gas in the Turner Valley Oil and Gas field in Southern Alberta is conveyed in a telegram recently received by Premier Brownlee from Hon.
Herbert Greenfield, representative of the Alberta Government in London. It is pointed out by the premier that as a result of the activities of Mr. Greenfield's office, there has been in recent years a marked change in the attitude of British capitalists towards investments in Western Canada.

Frank Carr, a poultry man of Lenox, Mass., learned something more about turkeys just before Thanksgiving. When he appeared among his flock wearing a bright red sweater, two big gobblers attacked him so viciously that he was forced to climb a tree.

The rolling stone gathers no moss,
but at all events it isn't a tombstone.

Blackfoot M.D. Annual Meeting Minutes

The minutes of the seventh annual meeting of the ratepayers of the M.D. of Blackfoot, No. 218, held in the Community Hall, Gleichen, Saturday, February 16th, 1929, commencing at 1 p.m.

About ninety ratepayers were present among them being Reeve Thurston, Deputy Reeve James McEwen and Councillors Maynard, Durston, Daw and David McEwen.

Mr. Harry Buckler, chairman of the year, called the meeting to order. The meeting then elected Mr. R. P. Unwin, chairman of the meeting and W. E. Thompson, secretary.

The following program was adopted on motion of Wheatley & Nelson:

1. Reading and disposal of the minutes of the previous meeting.
2. Discussion of the financial statement.
3. Discussion on roads.
4. Discussion on weeds.
5. Discussion of the hall insurance.
6. Miscellaneous business.

Item No. 1, was read and disposed of without any comment or change.

ITEM NO. 2
A ratepayer now requested that a portion of the Municipal District Act be temporary loans be read.

Section 278 to 279 inclusive of the Act was read.

Upon an explanation of the large municipal borrowings being requested Reeve Thurston explained the necessity and advisability of making a loan of $100,000 in June and another loan in December, $80,000 in order to pay the Hall Insurance Board their assessment in full. The municipality thereby discharged an obligation bearing interest at 10% added semi-annually and assumed an indebtedness, secured by the uncollected Hall Insurance Taxes, to the bank with 7% interest rate. The difference between the two interest rates and a refund from the Hall Insurance Board for payment of assessments represented a gain to the district of more than $100,000 and did not in any way affect the indebtedness due by the policy-holders to the district.

It has been the policy of the Council to endeavor to arrange a sufficient school surplus to pay the first two quarterly estimate installments to the schools. In the year 1928 the school trustees demanded larger pre-payments than usual and this together with two districts increasing their estimates over their original figures and the taxes not being available until the second week in December, it was necessary to borrow to keep the schools paid.

The $100,000 municipal loan was necessary to meet the road expenditures as the cash surplus had been partly used to defray expense of the lower road equipment, early in the season.

A motion was made and seconded. That the financial statement be laid up by item.

Object to this motion was voiced by Mr. Wheatley who stated if he did not it would take until midnight to get through and he thought if any one wished to ask any question and was allowed to do so that there would be a enough time expended. An objection was raised to the statement a question read through.

This motion was now put to the meeting and declared lost.

The question of the amount paid for tax collection and mileage was taken up. Several ratepayers expressed themselves to the effect that the expenditure was not warranted and the reeve explained that the regular taxes were a first charge against the land. He further stated that the latter said that the latter accounts were collected by all the means available that he could and he kept to a minimum. Another ratepayer expressed that no taxes should be allowed to become in arrears.

It was agreed that this question be taken up under miscellaneous business.

Exception was taken to a party who was charged with monopolizing all the time of the meeting with questions. The chairman ruled that any one who was a ratepayer had a right to ask questions and a motion was made that speeches or questions be limited to three minutes to any one party who did not receive a second. Finally Mr. Harvey Hansen by motion duly seconded moved "That the financial statement be accepted," which was declared carried.

ITEM NO. 3

Does the Council intend to continue their present road program and will it be necessary to increase the mill rate of the municipal tax was immediately asked?

Reeve Thurston: While I am only one of the Council I favor proceeding with our market road program but as to the divisional appropriation they will have to be reduced, even at the 1928 mill rate, as we have from time to time reduced our surplus and I do not consider a further reduction advisable.

Moved by Mr. Wheatley: That this meeting go on record to the effect that the Council be advised that under no circumstances shall the 1928 mill rate be increased over and above the rate of 1928 and also that we recommend to the Council to try, if possible, and reduce the mill rate—Carried.

Question: Will it be necessary to make temporary loans during 1929? Reeve Thurston: Most of our taxes are not available until December of the year in which they are levied and it will be necessary to borrow a limited amount.

Question: Is it advisable to sell debentures and pay for the roads over a term of years?

Reeve Thurston: We cannot take money and get roads handed over a counter. If we were to have a suitable amount of equipment to do the work. I question if we had the necessary funds if we could exceed our 1928 expenditures and at the same time do the work economically. There is also the question of the demand in the near future of gravelled or higher standard road to be considered and I feel that if we proceed with a reasonable program we will, when the time is ripe, be in a better position to deal with than we would be to continue paying for old roads by debenture installments and interest.

A motion was made and seconded. That we approve our Council's present road program—Carried.

ITEM NO. 4
Reeve Thurston: Some-what is inoperative there being in the neighborhood of forty patches in the district. The eradication of this weed is so important that he believed it would be money well expended if the municipality with the consent of the landowner assumed the responsibility of the eradication of this weed by chemical treatment. The information upon this treatment appears to show

In Ancient Greece

The Greeks were not long in following the example of the ancient Egyptians in the making of beer.

The Greeks soon commenced to improve on their knowledge of the art of brewing, and as far back as 320 B.C. the writer Theophrastus tells us that the Greeks employed barley wine or beer ("zythus") in their daily life, as well as in their festive meetings.

Today malt beverages, BEER—ALE—STOUT are considered health drinks.

Where BEER has once been introduced, it has generally become the national beverage.

that from 75 to 80% of the plants are killed outright with one application.

Moved by Mr. Hansen and Mr. Wheatley: That the Council buy a drum of weed killer and sell it at cost and let the farmers try it out.

The chairman drew the attention of the meeting to the returning of Bur had an announcement to make. That official announced it was three o'clock and that he was prepared to receive nominations for Council for Wards 1, 2, and 3 of the Municipal District until the hour of four o'clock. Discussion on chemical weed killing was continued.

Mr. Sanders stated that he had exchanged plants so treated and while it killed the plants it did not kill the roots and in his opinion nothing would beat oil and a shovel.

Other ratepayers favored a text of the chemical that was guaranteed to kill 75 to 80 per cent of the plants outright and that the expense should be paid by the landowner who was the grass-hopper campaign, while another did not see why he should have to pay for his neighbor's weeds. Mr. Ferguson by amendment duly seconded: That the Council be given a free hand to buy what they require to eradicate weeds and the chemical be offered for sale at cost.

Amendment was voted upon and declared lost while the motion—Carried.

Mr. Sanders, 1928 weed inspector, upon being requested made a few remarks on the condition of the district regarding weeds. He stated that the Council had more than met this emergency and that the weeds had been reduced, also lands had been taken care of that were never looked after before.

Messrs. Wheatley and Bowen moved. That in future the Council hire the destruction of all weeds on road allowances and charge same to the divisional appropriation—Lost.

Messrs. Nelson and Scher: That the Council use their own discretion and carry out the provisions of the weed act with more vigor, if found necessary—Carried.

The appointment of weed inspector or inspectors was discussed. One party favored the appointment of councillors for these positions in their respective district at a remuneration of from $150 to $200 per annum.

Messrs. Wilson and Greesham: That the Council engage six weed inspectors this coming season, one for each division, and that tenders be called—Carried.

ITEM NO. 5
Information was read from the report from the Hall Insurance Board also the amount of the 1928 Hall assessment of this district, $61,718, and claims paid $1535.

Messrs. Hedger and Wheatley: That the Council be asked to apply to the Hall Insurance Board for a lowering of our class for the coming season—Carried.

At four o'clock the returning officer made the following declaration: That J. A. Maynard was elected by acclamation as councillor for Div. No. 1, that P. Daw was elected by acclamation as councillor for Div. No. 2, and that two nominations, P. W. F. Law and J. M. Wheatley had been received for councillor for Div. No. 3, and that Polls would be held in Pigeonstree and Chancellor schools on Saturday, Feb. 28th, between 9 a.m. and 5 p.m.

Discussion of tax collection expenses was resumed under Item No. 6.

A ratepayer expressed himself in favor of charging the cost of collection to the party upon which the expense was incurred.

The road commissioner's salary and mileage was discussed and while the official was admitted to be a first class man and capable in all respects the expense so incurred was compared with the payment to councillors in other districts. It was suggested that the council should attend to all work on a half-time basis and not run levels and dig dikes in his spare time. The reeve stated that he had been a councillor for seven years and had found out that he knew nothing about building roads. As far as getting a casual laborer to supervise and prepare figures for contracts purposes it was entirely out of the question. I would not consider information from such a source one should be capable there is no reason why he should be working for $4.00 per day.

Councillor David McEwen drew attention to the details of councillors remuneration on roads and pointed out that part of the road commissioner's salary was paid from the amount that was in any case to be contributed to Councillor Maynard, who had been paid the maximum amount $600.00 during 1928 admitted that he had not been paid for one day during the season of 1928, which would have an accompanying loss.

A ratepayer asked if it would not be advisable to notify all resident ratepayers of the date of each Council and other meetings held and how would that have an accompanying loss.

His Interesting History

Signed Photographs of World Notables Cover Screen Which Belonged to King Edward

In the early days of King George's cinema a folding screen was used between his bed and the door to avoid any chance of a draught reaching him when the door was open. A screen that was one of the prized possessions of King Edward was substituted for the screen first put up in the room.

This screen is a four-foot square made of rosewood and is completely covered with autographed photographs of high-ranking world notables by King Edward. The screen was in King George's bedroom as it was thought it would be of use to him.

The screen has an interesting history. It took King Edward over thirty years to completely cover the screen with photographs. He collected the idea of making his collection of photographs when he visited America and was the guest of President James Buchanan. The President gave him the Prince of Wales autographed photograph and it was one of the first to be put on the screen. In close proximity to the photograph of Buchanan are photographs of Emerson and John Wendell Holmes, whom the Prince met in America.

It was the hope of the then Prince of Wales to complete the screen with photographs of succeeding American Presidents on the screen, but the President on the screen, but the screen was not completed.

Pushing Back Northern Frontier

Agricultural Area in Alberta Is Expanding Northwestward

The northern agricultural area in Alberta has been pushed backward to a very marked degree in the past few years. This is shown by the Dominion Lands Administration Branch of the Department of the Interior, Ottawa.

Of the 8,000 homesteads filed in Alberta during the year, 6,000 were in the Peace River district. Corresponding figures for 1927 are 2,725 homesteads filed on in the province of which 1,135 were in the Peace River. In this respect Alberta shows greater activity than other of the other prairie provinces. In Saskatchewan 1,985 homesteads were taken up in 1928, as compared with 2,810 in 1927, and Manitoba shows an increase from 990 in 1927, to 1,200 in 1928.

Allowing 130 acres to each claimant, Alberta's area of occupied farms has thus been increased some 1,300,000 acres in 1928.

BLEEDING GUMS

From the tooth which, in health, is still preserved, and a special one, you will know that at once that the gum tissue is fully supplied with blood.

Normally, gum tissue is firm and healthy. It is not until the gum tissue is fully supplied with blood that it is able to resist the attack of bacteria.

What, then, may be the cause of bleeding gums? It is not until the gum tissue is fully supplied with blood that it is able to resist the attack of bacteria.

Perhaps the first indication you have had of this condition was the redness of the gum tissue, which is the first sign of the disease.

The gum and gingival tissues are protected by a comparatively thick epithelial covering, but which is more delicate than the skin.

Here, then, is the most vulnerable point of attack by the disease-bearing organisms, which, through some cause, set up a build up of bacteria in the gum tissue.

Lace Making Old Art

Lace making was invented in the year 1661 at St. Amberg, in Saxony, by Barbara Uttmann. The first establishment of lace manufacture in England is said to be due to the refugees from Flanders, who settled in the village of Cheshire, in the west of the county of Bedford, so joining Buckinghamshire.

Larger Order Placed When Industries Fair Opened at London, England

The greatest in the series of British Industries Fairs opened at London and Birmingham, England, with the Prince of Wales, who was the guest of President James Buchanan.

The President gave him the Prince of Wales autographed photograph and it was one of the first to be put on the screen. In close proximity to the photograph of Buchanan are photographs of Emerson and John Wendell Holmes, whom the Prince met in America.

It was the hope of the then Prince of Wales to complete the screen with photographs of succeeding American Presidents on the screen, but the President on the screen, but the screen was not completed.

A stenographic machine was required to pass all the stands. Speechmaking was reserved until the evening when the government tendered a banquet to the leading exhibitors and buyers at the Mansion House.

The Prince of Wales and Premier Stanley Baldwin attended and the speech of the Prince was broadcast by wireless.

An interesting innovation was "ready reference" sorting the price of British goods in forty foreign currencies.

Some 20 minutes of the opening of the great British Industries Fair an order was placed for Canadian goods to the value of £20,000.

Hand stripped to the waist. Connie's eyes rested on the mighty frame of this huge blond; the bunched and rippling muscles, the great chest covered with a mat of thick hair, and the enormous limbs. Her glance then turned and roved to the man who was to fight for her honor. Donald's eyes were like burning coals. His face had regained its color, but was contorted with a passion that made him seem unnatural. Yet he appeared a mere stripling in comparison to his burly antagonist.

Hand's reputation as a rough and tumble fighter was well known throughout the province. It was his proud boast that he never had been whipped. He advanced now, a sinister leer on his face. Andy ran to Donald's side.

"Box 'im, Donnie," he whispered. "Don't let 'im get 'old on you."

"You goin' to vip me? De dude goin' to vip me? Ach!" scoffed Hand in guttural accents.

He came slowly forward with arms spread wide, his thick fingers working convulsively. Donald leaned slightly forward and waited. As he neared him, Hand tore in sure of himself in the rough and tumble. Donald side-stepped the big man's first rush and shot his left to his face. He was not properly set for the blow, but it stung Hand to madness.

"Ach!" he grunted, "stand and fight you d— coward!"

He came on, his arms swinging wildly. Leaping aside, Donald's heel struck a stump, and before he could regain his footing the giant's arms were around him in a bone-crushing grasp. His hands were clasped at Donald's waist, and the big head was pressed suffocatingly against his throat. Donald was forced slowly backward to strike the ground with a thud, the big man on top.

"Now I got you!" panted Hand as he released his hold on Donald's waist and aimed a blow at his face. With a quick movement the under man turned face down. Hand struck him viciously as he lay prostrate under him.

With a quick, convulsive movement of his lithe body Donald threw Hand from his back and sprang to his feet. Whirling quickly as the foreigner came toward him, he sent in a volley of blows to his opponent's face. Hand staggered, but did not fall. His lips were cut and bleeding; his nose was broken; and he spat out several broken teeth. Any one of the blows landed was sufficient to send an ordinary man down for the count, but still the gargantuan giant came on.

Crowding Donald back to the line of tense spectators, Hand rushed him into the scattering crowd and seized him in a rib-cracking embrace. Donald broke the hold, but not before the brute had battered him over the eye. With the blow Donald's senses reeled and the blood gushed from a wide gash on his brow. A blow from the foreigner's big fist then caught him over the heart and sent him staggering to his knees. With a curse the big man came after him.

Donald came slowly to his feet and mechanically side-stepped as Hand came stumbling toward him. Donald evaded him until his head cleared, and then summoned his remaining strength into one mighty blow that landed flush on his opponent's midriff. The blond beast came to his knees with a dull grunt.

"Go after him!" yelled excited voices from the crowd.

Donald stepped forward with fist drawn back to strike the kneeling man, but his arm fell to his side and he shook his head. "Get up!" he commanded hoarsely.

Even the strikers gasped their appreciation of this honorable act. A murmur of applause came from both sides. The foreigner shook his shaggy blond head and came uncertainly to his feet and the sanguinary battle went on. Both men were tired. Hand's breath was coming in short-choking gasps from his tortured lungs, and his face was one smear of blood. Donald's left eye was closed; his lips were split, and the gash over his eye had covered his body with blood. His arms were tired from pounding the iron jaw of his adversary. The big logger's strength was waning; the pounding administered by Donald was beginning to tell. But Donald was too weak to avoid his rushes. In a clinch Hand again butted him with his head.

Blackie, his eyes blazing, leaped forward with a peavy handle in his hand. "You fight fair, d— you, or I'll brain you!" he shouted. One of the strikers attempted to wrest the peavy handle from his hands. Blackie felled him with a blow of his fist. It looked for one tense moment as if there would be a general melee. There came sudden mutterings from the crowd of strikers.

"Back!" John Hiller's voice rang out sharp and clear. "I'll kill the first man that interferes!" The eyes shining over the long-barrelled Colt held a dangerous glint. The men who had moved to the centre backed away hurriedly.

Back and forth the combatants struggled, neither gaining any decided advantage, each trying to land a blow that would end the battle. Reeling, gasping, striking, falling to their knees from sheer weakness, the men fought on under a burning noontide sun.

No knight of old ever fought more nobly for a fair lady's honour than did Donald McLean that day by the lake-shore. His undershirt was torn to tatters, showing his white skin blotched with welts and bruises. He was losing his sense of distance. Swinging wildly with his left, his wrist struck Hand's adamant jaw and the onlookers saw his face writhe in pain as the arm fell helplessly to his side.

"E's broken 'is 'and," groaned Andy.

"Oh, stop it, Andy, please stop it!" sobbed Connie, her arms held out in entreaty.

Donald's face turned a sickly grey, and as the well-nigh sightless foreigner staggered weakly toward him, he with a strength born of agony whipped his right to his opponent's sagging jaw. The big man faltered, sank slowly to hands and knees, then stretched at full length, his face pressing the soil, quivered and lay still. No sound came from the crowd. The thing had been too stupendous for immediate shouting or applause. Donald stood for an instant swaying uncertainly, then turned to stumble toward his cabin. Blackie sprang to the top of a stump and swung his hat in the air. "Three cheers for our boss!" he yelled wildly.

A roaring cheer came from the crowd with a right good will.

"Boys, let's go back to work!" shouted Blackie.

"We're with you, Blackie!" they answered.

Gillis reached Donald's side as he tottered into the cabin and caught him in his arms as he collapsed into unconsciousness. The big man picked him up tenderly and placed him on the bed.

"Get some 'ot water and towels and telephone for Dr. Paul," commanded Andy tersely.

As Gillis left to fill Andy's commission, Connie fell on her knees by the bedside and wept with wild and passionate violence. "Oh, Donald! Donald!" she sobbed, "you fought for me. I love you! I love you! Oh Andy," turning her streaming eyes to the little man, "he won't die, will he? Tell me he won't die!" Her trembling fingers were smoothing Donald's dark hair, and she kissed his battered face tenderly, all the while calling his name hysterically.

With tears in his eyes and a heart full of sympathy, little Andy looked down on the recumbent form of his unconscious friend. "E's all right, Connie. E'll be all right in a few days," he answered her in a choking voice.

Donald stirred as Andy applied the water, and his one good eye opened slowly. "Did I win?" he questioned weakly.

"You bet your blinkin' life you did. When Donald's gaze rested on Connie his face twisted into a wry smile. He reached for her hand and held it in a firm pressure. "Good little sport," he whispered through split lips.

The sound of the big mill whistle smote their ears in a wild medley of short, sharp blasts, quite unlike the decorous tone that summoned and dismissed the men.

"What's that?" asked Donald, attempting to sit up.

"The engineer is celebrating, Donnie. The men 'ave returned to work. The strike is broken."

"Ah!" sighed Donald happily as he fell back on the pillows.

The distant hum of a gas car gradually increased to a series of staccato explosions, then died out suddenly. They heard the light rumble of wheels as it drew to a stop at the station below. There was the sound of quick foot-steps on the board sidewalk and the door opened to admit Dr. Paul. He crossed the room and took Donald's hand. "Is it true," he asked incredulously, "that you whipped Ole Hand?"

"Strike me pink if 'e didn't," Andy vouchsafed.

"I have patched up Hand's victim's many times," the doctor stated, "but this is the first time that I have attended his victor, and I can assure you that it's a pleasure." He removed his coat and rolled up his sleeves. "I'll look you over," he added, then glanced significantly at Connie, who rose and left the room.

"A couple of cracked ribs, a fractured ulna, and a few hundred bruises," was the doctor's verdict a few minutes later.

The physician's deft hands soon bandaged the broken ribs and set the bone of the forearm.

"I'll go and patch up the fallen bully. I hope he's worse still," he chuckled as he left the room.

CHAPTER XV.

On the third day of Donald's convalescence he was able to leave his cabin. With his arm in a sling, his face patched with plaster, he made the rounds of the mill.

The men welcomed him with eager nods and smiles, many coming forward to shake his hand in silent respect. The big plant was now going at full blast. Belts flapped, logs thudded, planers snored loudly, and the great saw ripped shrilly through the big logs in a raising crescendo of sound.

Down at the siding an engine bumped noisily into a long string of flat-cars piled high with lumber. With arms akimbo, his wet undershirt clinging to his powerful torso, the mop of blond hair hanging damp on his brow, Gillis stood surveying the heavily-laden cars with an air of complacency. The lumber handlers sat about in positions of weariness, mopping their hot faces.

Gillis smiled cheerfully as Donald approached.

"Good news for you, Donnie," he said.

"What is it, Jack?"

"Last load for the big steamer," replied Gillis, as he pointed at the moving train.

"We're on time, then," cried Donald gladly.

"One day ahead," corrected Gillis. The engineer came to the cab window as the engine passed, and patted him his congratulations by shaking hands with himself. The train gathered speed, and as the caboose rattled by, the conductor came to the rear platform.

"Good work, boys!" he shouted.

They stood watching the train until it struck the down grade and disappeared through the cut.

"Well, that's over," observed Gillis, as he sat down heavily and wiped the sweat from his face. He looked tired and worn, but the light of "If it hadn't been for you, Jack," said Donald earnestly, "we would not have got that order away on time. You look all in—you'd better have a good sleep."

The big man's eyes brightened at Donald's praise.

As Donald walked up the hill the whistle blew for the noon-hour, and the men trooped past on their way to the dining-room. Blackie left the ranks and walked shamefacedly to Donald's side.

"I'm sorry for the part I took in the strike, boss, I—"

"It's all right, Blackie," interrupted Donald, "you more than made up for it. We'll forget all about that."

Blackie's face wore a relieved look as Donald gave him a friendly grip.

As Donald moved to his place at the table the men arose and clapped their hands. Someone called for a cheer, but Donald laughingly held up his hand.

"Men, I can't find words to tell you how much I appreciate your good work. Your long hours of labor enabled the Company to get an important order away on time, thereby saving their prestige in a big Eastern market. You will receive double pay for every hour you worked during the week.

A low murmur of applause followed this welcome announcement.

After lunch, feeling the need of exercise, Donald made his way slowly down the hill. The severe mauling and the days in bed had weakened him to such an extent that he was forced to take frequent rests. As he turned a curve in the trail, Hand and the man with whom Andy had fought crawled stealthily from the bush, looked furtively about them, then followed Donald down the hill. He reached the open glade by the fairy nest to find Connie seated by the rippling stream, her chin resting in cupped hands, and staring dreamily into the flashing water.

"Ah!" he cried gaily, "I have caught my little dryad at her ornaments."

At the sound of his voice Connie sprang to her feet, her heart racing madly. Hearing a sound behind him, Donald turned to find the eyes of the Breed fixed on him in a malignant glare that chilled him to the marrow. For a short interval the dusky orbs of the Indian held his as though with a hypnotic power.

"Whew!" he ejaculated, as the Breed hobbled down the trail, "your guardian sure does give me an awful look. Why does he hate me, Connie?"

"Joe has peculiar ways," she parried.

"What were you dreaming about, Connie?" he asked interestedly.

A gay light danced momentarily in her shining eyes, and the red lips curved in a smile: "I was dreaming I was rich," she archly confessed.

"An old, old dream," smiled Donald as he stretched himself painfully on the moss.

Connie sat down near him.

As always, this spot gave Donald a restful feeling. The gentle zephyrs wafted from the woods about them were so merrily delicious and the sparkling glacial stream that rippled through the glade sang its clear, sweet song. He closed his eyes wearily.

The proximity of the man she loved, lying there with his arm in a splint, his handsome face still bearing the marks of the blows he had suffered in her defence, thrilled Connie to the depths of her warm, impulsive heart. An almost overmastering desire to touch his hair possessed her.

"What would you do if you were rich, Connie?" he queried drowsily.

Connie sank back in the delicious moss and clasped her hands behind her golden head. "I'd buy a big trunk—one of that kind with the bulgy top—and I'd fill it with silks, satins, brocades, velvets and all kinds of soft fluffy things. Then I'd unpack it slowly one by one and hang them up all around the room and sit down and look at them. I'd buy a great, big stone house in London, and I'd walk down the wide marble stairs, trailing a long rustling silk gown, and I'd raise my lorgnette to my eyes and say, 'James, have my carriage at the door in half-an-hour.' I'd have a country place in Scotland, with hundreds of dogs and horses, thousands of birds, and acres of flowers."

She paused for a moment.

"I'd take Dad and Peggy with me everywhere I'd go," she went on softly. "And I'd buy Dad millions of books, and for Peggy I'd buy a solid gold-mounted bridle, and lots of warm blankets for winter instead of those old sacks. I'd buy lots of good things to eat, and lost of good clothes for all the poor kiddies in the world."

She looked up at the hills. "And six months out of every year," she continued, "I'd live right here in these mountains and come every day and sit beside—beside—this stream."

She raised herself slowly and looked down at Donald as he lay with closed eyes. Leaning forward until her golden curls almost brushed his dark hair, her eyes rested on a purple bruise on his brow. "And," she finished fiercely, "I'd kill every man like Ole Hand."

Donald laughed sleepily.

"Connie, you are a dear little girl," he said tenderly.

The endearing tone held a paternal ring, and Connie bit her lip in vexation.

"I'd like to have your father go with me to Vancouver some day. Will you go?"

Guard Against FLU — Sore Throat The First Warning.

Few families will escape. This epidemic constitutes a real danger. Health authorities everywhere warn the public of the danger of the common cold. "Flu" usually starts with Sore Throat. Unless the germs are killed by some antiseptic treatment a serious malady may develop.

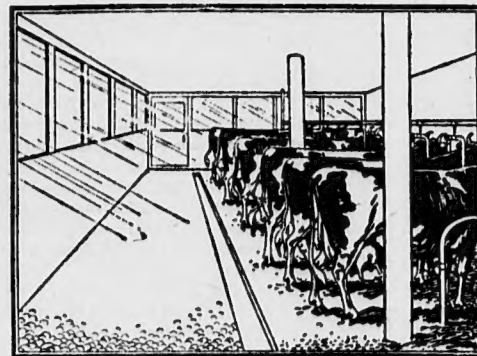

A simple treatment is to gargle the throat three times daily with Nerville. The antiseptic properties of Nerville quickly destroy the germs in the throat. Of course if the chest is sore Nerville should be rubbed over the affected area—lots of rubbing—it can't burn a blister, but will bring out the congestion and break up the cold.

To prevent "Flu" or colds from gaining headway Nerville will prove most effective. It is hardly necessary to point out that the bowels should be stimulated, and the system purged of all waste materials. For this purpose Dr. Hamilton's Pills are recommended. They act without griping or discomfort of any kind. This combination treatment of Nerville and Dr. Hamilton's Pills will prove a very satisfactory prevention for Grippe, Flu, etc.

When Better Automobiles Are Built—McLaughlin-Buick Will Build Them

CORRESPONDENCE

(The Call must not be held responsible for the opinions of correspondents.)Gleichen, Alta., February 25th, 1929

Editor Gleichen Call,

I see that my former letter dealing entirely with the financial side of the new proposed school act has raised the ire of the U. F. A. Director from this district.

I did not expect to get into any controversy re. this matter as I did not criticise the potential or the educational value of the act.Now, however, since the gauntlet has been thrown down I cheerfully accept the challenge.I quite realize that it was very presumptuous of me to publish con-tain facts which appear to have the effect of criticism of an act that was endorsed and sponsored by so, renowned a personage as the Director.
I am very grateful, however, that I could by any humble comments amuse him and I hope that the taxpayers will be equally amused in the future.I see by his letter that he is not in a position to challenge my figures.Is it because it is easy to talk in generalities, but not so easy to dispute actual facts? Or, is he getting cautious because figuratively speaking he stubbed his toes when he tried to challenge the statement made by the reeve of the Bow Valley M. D.
in the Strathmore Standard.In regards to his statement that nothing was too good for the Elwood school when I was on the board and had children going to school, I quite agree with him and that also applie
to the seven years I was on the board before I had any children in school.I was secretary-treasurer those years and served without pay, thereby saving the district hundreds of dollars at a time when the Elwood District was pretty much in the same position as some of the newer district.
are today that the new act propose.
to help.I might also state that if he care to look up the average mill rate for that district he will find that it compares very favorably with the lowest in any district surrounding it, and it was, one of the few that had a substantial surplus what the municipal ity took over the collection of taxes.I am ready and willing to cheerfully pay any school-tax necessary for common school purposes in any district where I have land provided the money goes to the expenditures in that school.I have never tried to hinder progress either in school matters or municipal affairs and I am not afraid of high taxes provided they are consistent with benefits derived, levied equitably and expended judiciously.It may be that we should not counter the cost in school matters but go ahead with a whoop and a yell the way some men do in the management of their own private affairs, to raise to dizzy heights on the wings of properity until they go into a financial tail-spin that ends up in a crash and then depend on the Debt Adjustment Board to pick up the pieces and untangle the wreckage.It is nice to live in an atmosphere of sentimental aloofness from matterial things, but after all it takes cash and hard-headed business principles to administer even the educational system.I admit that the burden of taxation for school purposes in certain parts of the province is a problem that was not quite solved in the act of 1921
when the school grants were re-apportioned to the extent of almost discontinuing grants to the older and more prosperous districts and increasing the grants up to five and six hundred dollars to weaker districts.I was in favor of that change at the time and I am still in favor of going still further along that line, but I am not in favor of going to the other extreme and make a comparatively small rural portion of the province bear the entire cost of educating their own children and in addition to bear nearly two-thirds of the cost of educating the children in a much larger area.In regard to co-operation in hail insurance rates mentioned by our correspondent.A flat rate on insurance would be very similar to a flat rate for school purposes only the "shoe", would be on the other foot and since a motorist
in that direction received scant consideration at the U.F.A. convention and since those parts of the province that would benefit by the new school act are not willing to co-operate with us in regard to hail insurance is it not logical for us to assume that we are justified in turning down a flat rate for school purposes?

Sincerely yours,

day, March 1st, at the Queen's Hotel.
Eyes Examined. 47Your town is as good a place to live in and to do business in as any other. It is a good town if you will do your share to make it so. Boost your town—trade at home—buy home made products, keep your dollar at home and it will eventually come back to you with interest. Why not come to a realization of this fact and live up to it?The CALL would ask all who write letters regarding the proposed new school act to be good enough to sign their names for publication. So far all have given their names and it would seem hardly fair to allow others to use assumed names. The Call is quite prepared to print letters from their correspondents under this condition, believing a thorough discussion will result in much good.A surprise party was given at Mr.
Celt's Robson's home at Cluny last Wednesday night. There was a large attendance and the evening spent in dancing, playing games and music. Lunch was served between evening. Among those present were:Mr. and Mrs. Kirstein, sr. and jr.;
Mr. and Mrs. C. Robson; Romeo
Robson; Mr. and Mrs. Dute; Keith

MRS. L. A. PARR

The death of Mrs. Ida M. Parr, at the age of almost 26 years, wife of Mr. L. A. Parr, in the Arrowwood hospital, last Wednesday night, February 20th, was the cause of the deepest sorrow in that community as he had only been ill one day and leaves four young children of ages ranging from six years to six weeks.
The deceased was married seven and a half years and came to reside in Arrowwood about four years ago, where she had earned the respect and esteem of all with whom she came in contact with.Her home was formerly at Trochu, Alberta, where her father died only a month previous.Besides her husband and family of four children, she leaves to mourn her demise three sisters and two brothers, namely:Mrs. Reder of Vancouver, Washington; Mrs. Fellows of Delbourn
Alberta; Mrs. D. Sayre of Cayley
Alberta, and her brothers John Ferschweiler of Trochu, Alberta, and Walter of Fort Saskatchewan, Alberta.The funeral took place Saturday afternoon and was attended by a large number of relatives and friends. Rev.
Mr. Corcoran conducted a service in the Gleichen United Church and a short service at the Gleichen cemetery.Geo. W. Evans, undertaker, had entire charge of the arrangements.There were a number of beautiful floral contributions among which were noted.Buffalo Hill U. F. A., Mr. R. H.
Bishop; C. Williams and family, T. J.
Barr and Mrs. Hepburn; Mr. and Mrs. Horner; L. A. Parr; sister and brother.

enemies.

"There is more truth than anything else to it," explained Buster Keaton, "for in a recent raid on long headquarters the police unearthed a number of machine guns."The younger Chinese in the tongs have learned the tricks from the gangsters wars recently staged."Keaton plays a newsreel cameraman in the new picture, and in one of his comical adventures he blunders into the tong war in Chinatown falling off a roof to land squarely in front of a machine gun and have his camera shot from under him by the gun's fire.While the crowd of extras fought with blank cartridges, real bullets were used to smash windows and doors and wreck Keaton's camera.
Out of camera range, Jack Wood,
a professional marksman, armed with a repeating rifle, picked off his spots between the fighting extras.Adding an authentic touch to these Oriental scenes is the great Chinese dragon, brought out every year and manned by a hundred men for Chinese New Year celebrations. It was borrowed by M-G-M from San Francisco's Chinatown for the first time in history. Borrowing it was made possible only through the high regard the Chinese have for Buster Keaton as an actor, for the dragon is almost sacred to them.Edward Sedgwick directed. Marceline Day plays the leading lady. In the cast are Harold Goodwin, Harry Griffin, Sydney Bracey and others.
